

Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders

The Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders (CCBD) is one of 17 divisions of the Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) which is the largest international professional organization dedicated to supporting positive educational outcomes for students with exceptionalities, students with disabilities and/or the gifted. CEC is actively involved in governmental policy and sets professional standards for its members. Additionally, CEC provides professional development venues designed to support practitioners who are providing services.

CCBD is dedicated to supporting professional development and enhancing the expertise of those who work on behalf of children with challenging behavior and their families. CCBD is committed to students who are identified as having emotional/behavioral disorders and those whose behavior puts them at risk for failure in school, home and/or community. CCBD supports the prevention of problem behavior and the enhancement of social-emotional and educational well-being for all children and youth.

In order to be a member of Ohio CCBD, one must be a member in good standing of the CEC and also join the division CCBD. Additional information concerning the Council for Exceptional Children is available at: www.cec.sped.org.
