
Child Well Being in the UK & USA

MIAMI UNIVERSITY FACULTY-LED STUDY ABROAD

Summer 2013 | FSW 499U (3-4 Credits)

Deepen your appreciation of history and of how policies and services directly influence the well-being of children.

This capstone workshop provides a critical and comparative analysis of how teachers, social workers and other human service professionals address the needs of vulnerable children through social welfare policies, programs and services.

Students meet with professionals to examine contrasting views about society, social justice and society's commitment to at-risk children as it applies to the nature of American and British child welfare systems.

Your learning will not just occur in the classroom it will take place as you and your fellow students travel, observe, explore and listen to people you meet.

This capstone program is a month of learning and living in London!

Contact: Suzanne Klatt, klatts@muohio.edu, 513-785-3236

More information at: MiamiOH.edu/study-abroad/londontravel

